 Hello! Parliament isn't sitting this week due to the Easter break. In the image below I have outlined some of the issues that I have received the most correspondence about this week.

Top Issues in my Inbox this week:

- SEND reform
- Foie gras import ban
- Under 16 social media ban
- NHS use of Palantir
- Risks associated with AI

Buckinghamshire Council Election

- On Thursday 1 May 2025 elections were held for 23 councils and six mayors in England.
- Most of the councils up for election are county councils - large authorities that look after services including social care, education, schools, road maintenance and libraries.
- In parts of England with no district councils, like in Buckinghamshire, local authorities are responsible for the full range of services - these also include bin collections, public housing and planning.
- Unitary authorities are funded through council tax, government grants and business rates.
