

Visit to KPMG, Canary Wharf, London January 2025

Last week some of our Year 9s, visited KPMG’s impressive headquarters in Canary Wharf London.

The day included interactive sessions where students engaged with KPMG professionals who shared their career journeys, experiences, and valuable advice. They also participated in team-building activities that encouraged problem-solving, communication, and collaboration—key skills for future success.

The visit left a lasting impression on the students, broadening their horizons and encouraging them to consider pathways they may not have previously explored. Many found the experience eye-opening and motivating, sparking an interest in the corporate world and the variety of roles within it.

“It has given me ideas for what I want to do when I’m older.” Ruby

“The workshop was great and the 13th floor had such a good view.” Daanish

It was good to learn how people got to where they are now and how their goals were completely different when they were our age.” Emily

“I enjoyed meeting the KPMG employees and it was interesting to hear about all the many opportunities.” Yusaf

“I learnt alot skills required for the workplace.” Eli

Chiltern Hills Academy is proud to be a part of the Opening Doors to Opportunities initiative, which continues to provide students with enriching experiences that help shape their aspirations for the future. A huge thank you to KPMG for hosting our students and offering them such a valuable insight into the professional world.
